The Logistics of Harvesting and Preprocessing Forest Biomass

Dick Carmical is President and CEO of The Price Companies, Inc. headquartered in Monticello, Arkansas. Price operates 20 wood chip facilities for the major paper and pulp mills in the Southeastern U.S. and also manages individual facilities in Maine and Australia. Dick spearheads a new division, Price BIOstock Services (PBS), which offers special logistical services - including woody biomass procurement, logistics, feedstock yard engineering, construction and operation - to address the requirements of emerging technology biorefineries. PBS is the contracted woody biomass supplier for the groundbreaking Range Fuels cellulosic ethanol plant in Soperton Georgia.
